

SynergERP cookie information

Cookies are small pieces of information stored on your computer, tablet or cellphone when you visit a website. SynergERP uses cookies to make our website and services work better for you and we recommend that you leave the cookies switched on. If you're happy with this, just click OK at the bottom of the page. If you don't, you can still use the site, but some things might not work properly.

Functional cookies

Functional cookies remember things like your user name, language or your location and personalise other features. These cookies also retain the way you have customised web pages – for example, text size and fonts. They may also be used to provide services you have requested. The information these cookies collect may be anonymised and they cannot track your browsing activity on other websites.

Performance and analytics cookies

We use these to gather information about how visitors use our website, products and services. For example, they tell us which areas get the most visitors and if users get error messages from web pages. You can't be identified from these cookies and all information is anonymous. We only use these cookies to improve how our website, products and services work.

Targeting or advertising cookies

To ensure that you don't view an advert too many times, we use cookies to limit their frequency. We also use them to try to ensure that you see offers that are relevant to you and your interests. Some cookies may be used by advertising networks with SynergERP's permission. These help to measure the effectiveness of an advertising campaign. They may also be used to share information about your visit with advertisers and others. These cookies may be linked to site functionality provided by other organisations. You can change your cookie preferences now or at any time in the future.
